1. There are many Christians who believe they can follow Christ apart from the church and apart from being in community. Why is this thinking flawed?
2. When we examine Jesus' disciples we see a mix of positive and negative qualities in each one. Which one(s) do you see parallel qualities in yourself?
3. How should the story of the disciples encourage us to press into community when we feel like giving up?
4. Dave listed several things that can keep us from community: not sensing the urgency, social anxiety, busy-ness, personality conflicts, political conflicts, hypocrisy and many others. Which of these are most likely to keep you from being in community?
5. Read Hebrews 10:23-25. Is it possible to live out these verses apart from community? Why or why not?
